COMMUNITY IMPACT

Three Cuyahoga County School Districts Add Solar

School districts in the Cleveland area are installing solar projects on their rooftops set to generate 300 to 400 kW per district, securing cost savings and providing learning and vocational opportunities for students.

Cincinnati Zoo Installs Solar for Itself and Neighbors

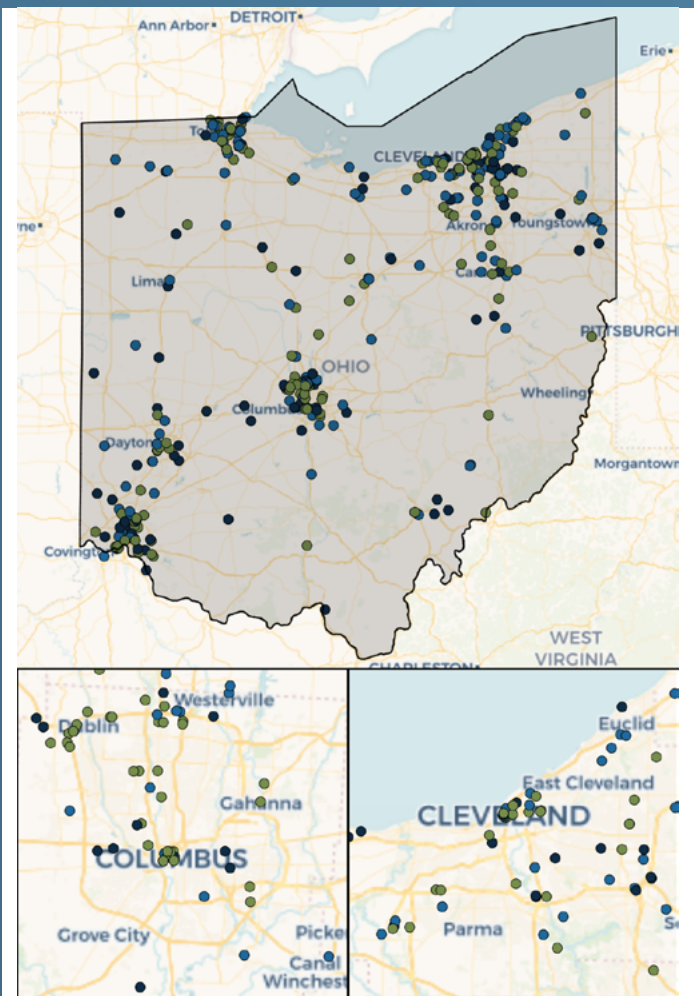

The Zoo boasts several solar arrays which produces 5.5 more energy than it uses. In addition to their own panels, the zoo is helping install solar for other community members, including a local church and elementary school.
