

The Renewable Energy and Energy Efficiency (re³) Business Directory App

COMPLETE THE SURVEY BY MARCH 1ST TO BE PART OF THE APP

Please join us on an innovative new project to promote U.S. clean energy solutions through the Renewable Energy & Energy Efficiency (RE3) Business Directory App. The U.S. Department of State, U.S. Department of Commerce and U.S. Department of Energy are collaborating to develop an interactive mobile app that will promote U.S. renewable energy and energy efficiency companies and the innovative solutions they are implementing around the world.

U.S. renewable energy, energy efficiency, and smart grid companies are invited to participate in the beta version of the RE3 app by completing an online survey. The purpose of this survey is to collect information on U.S. renewable energy and energy efficiency companies and the products and services they are marketing overseas. The information will be integrated with the app and participating companies will be featured in this innovative tool, which is designed to reach both citizens and potential commercial partners worldwide.

Eco-Diplomacy App

Sample app view for illustration purposes only

Further information and key points of contact available here.

Disclaimer: The information submitted to the directory and displayed on the app is intended to inform users about U.S. clean energy and energy efficiency solutions. All U.S.-based businesses in these industries that meet the criteria requested in the online form will be eligible for the directory and app. The Interagency Team will perform due diligence on submissions to the Directory and expects that submitting parties will perform their own due diligence, investigation, and background research before entering into a commercial relationship with any listed business or business contact facilitated through the product. A listing in the directory does not constitute endorsement of the business or its products, services or technology by the Interagency Team. The Interagency Team assumes no responsibility or liability for the actions users may take based on the information provided and reserves the right not to list any particular business.