COMMUNITY IMPACT

Community Solar in Belen Delivers Lower Bills

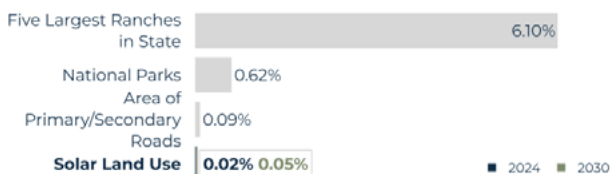

The 35 megawatt Cuidando Los Ninos Community Solar Project provides solar credits to local residents, lowering their bills and protecting them from rate increases.

Tribes Turn to Solar For Electricity Access

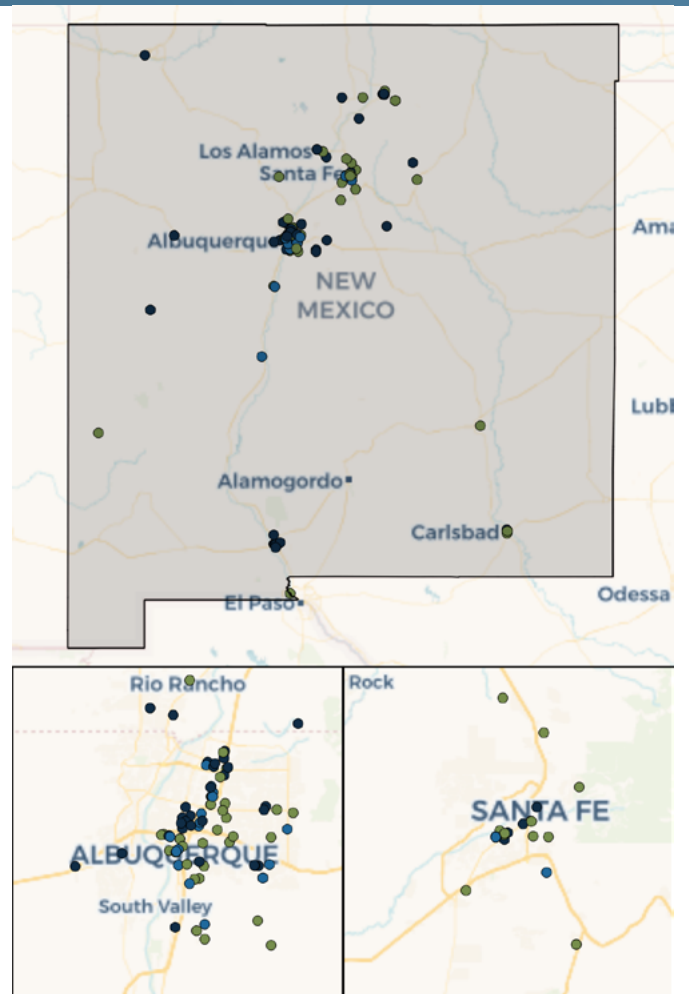

One in five households in the Navajo Nation and on the Hopi reservation are not connected to the power grid, but solar is changing that. The nonprofit Native Renewables have installed solar for free on 119 homes, many of which are in remote areas.
